ROAD TRIP?

STaMpsHOW '94 is scheduled for August 18 - 21 in Pittsburgh PA's David Lawrence Convention Center. As many Rochester and Buffalo collectors are interested in attending this major event. We are looking into group hotel rates and possibly bus transportation as well. Hotels within downtown Pittsburgh are in the $100+ per night category. The best bargain so far is a Motel 6, located 8 miles west of city center at exit 16 Interstate 79. It is six years old with 126 rooms. Regular room prices run: single $25.99 + 2.86 tax = $28.85 per night, double $31.99 + 3.52 tax = $35.51 per night.

There is a family style restaurant down the road and plenty of others within two miles. Discounts are available with a minimum of 10 rooms.

Anyone interested in further information is asked to contact Tom Fortunato at (716) 621-1670. If enough people are interested we will also look into group transportation. Note that parking in downtown Pittsburgh is about $8 per day. You will have until the end of April to express an interest in these options.

What to do, what to do! by Tom Fortunato

With all of the controversy over the design error of the US Legends of the West sheet and its recall, maybe the USPS should look overseas to find an example of what to do when an error reaches the public. Here is a case study from Papua New Guinea. Scheduled for release on February 19, 1994, it was noticed after printing that a "T" rather than a "t" was used in the denomination. The mistake was caught before the stamps were sold. However, examples of the errors soon reached dealers and the PNG Post decided to reprint the errors for the benefit of all. Here are examples of both versions.

Small Birds include Pitta bred in Papua New Guinea

Papua New Guinea is one of the largest islands in the world. More different languages are spoken there than anywhere else in the world. There are more than 9000 different plants growing in a dramatic range of climatic regions: from mangrove swamps at ground level to alpine meadows up in the mountains.

Papua New Guinea does have more than 250 species of indigenous mammals - mostly bats, rats, marsupials and tree kangaroos. It is most richly gifted with birds: over 400 species including Birds of Paradise, Bower birds, Parrots, Pigeons and Kingfishers. The largest of the three latter families (as well as the smallest parrot) are all found in Papua New Guinea. Perhaps the most spectacular birds are the alarming giant Cassowaries with their strange horny casques or helmet structures, used for crashing through heavy undergrowth. Queen Alexandra's Birdwing, the largest butterfly in the world, flaps through Papuan forests. Papua New Guinea is truly a land of extremes and superlatives.

Only protected wildlife areas are few in number, for the majority of people depend closely on the land for their subsistence and ownership rights are complex. The greatest danger is that forest cutting is done without understanding.

For its latest issue, Papua New Guinea has chosen some of the smaller birds that inhabit its forests. Released on 4 June, designed by G.L. Vasarhelyi and printed in lithography by Leigh-Mardon Pty. Ltd., of Australia, the species featured are:

21t - Clytomyias insignis - Rufous Wren Warbler

45t - Pitta superba - Superb Pitta

Pittas have been described as 'true gems of the bird world'. They have small plump bodies and live on the ground or just above it in dense dark forests, anywhere from the mangroves to the mossy cloud forests thousands of feet above. Pittas are weak fliers which prefer to hop. As its name suggests, the Superb Pitta has magnificently coloured plumage.

60t - Rhagologus leucostigma - Mottled Whistler

90t - Toxorhamphus poliopterus - Slaty-chinned Longbill

Longbills belong to the Honeyeater family, found from Australia, Papua New Guinea and Bali, to New Zealand Hawaii. Their most remarkable feature is an exceptionally long brush-tipped tongue, which can be extended into the base of long tubular flowers and deep, narrow cracks in bark to draw out nectar or honeydew by capillary action. They are quite capable of a rate of 10 licks a second.

The offer...

Attention collectors of:

- Birds on stamps
- Papua New Guinea

NEW DISCOVERY:

We have obtained a very few sets of the unissued 1992 Papua New Guinea Bird of Paradise Stage II stamps with incorrect denomination typeface and capital 'T' value denominator. The first printing of these stamps was distributed but later recalled by the Post Office in Port Moresby after it was realised that the denomination typeface and value denominator did not fit the style adopted and approved by the authorities.

Very few of the stamps escaped the recall and have now become available on the philatelic market and we are able to offer complete mint sets of the unissued stamps at US$600 per set (blocks pro-rata); or a RARE imprint block of four at US$3000.

Very few of the imprint blocks are known to exist - we understand Christie's (London) and Stanley Gibbons (Australia) will each offer a similar block at auction during 1993!

The above prices include delivery by UPS (so please advise street address and contact telephone number with your order).

Payment by certified check (in US dollars) or credit card (American Express, Diners' Club, JCB, MasterCard, Visa). If paying by credit card, your card will be charged with the Australian dollar equivalent on the day of transaction.

Dear Customer

RE: RE ISSUE OF BIRD OF PARADISE STAGE II BIG 'T' ERROR

In February 1992 Papua New Guinea Philatelic Bureau was to have released a Definitive Stamp Series on Bird of Paradise Stage two.

However due to a minor error in the value i.e. instead of having lower case 't' the set had upper case 'T'.

These particular stamps were withdrawn and replaced with corrected lower case 't' and re issued in March 1992.

Lately we have noticed some individuals/Stamp Dealers have offered for sale corner blocks of the stamp issue with the big 'T' as a rare item at inflated price.

We feel this is unfair to you our consistent and valued customer hence we will re issue this stamp issue with its minor error, so that the inflated price can be controlled.

A total of 50,000 sets only will be made available through our Philatelic Bureau and Agents and your customer is given the first opportunity to place your order with us.

For the standing order customers, we will send you your standard requirements without FDC and stamp pack.

However for casual clients, please use the enclosed order form to indicate your requirements and send it in with your payment promptly.

This stamp issue will be available as from 1 July till 31 December 1993 unless stock is exhausted earlier.

Kind regards,

Brian Moore

*Asterisks precede entries that have changed since their most recent stamp program appearance.

Tentative catalog numbers. Scott catalog numbers and United Postal Stationery Society numbers are given in the listings when the numbers are made public.

Plate numbers, plate blocks. Sheet stamps have corner plate numbers, requiring a block of four unless otherwise stated. Self-adhesive stamp panes with plate numbers usually are collected as entire panes. Panes from booklets with water-activated gum usually are collected as entire panes with the tab (stub) attached. Coil numbers usually are collected on the center stamp in strips of three or five.

Abbreviations for contractors are included in the listings as follows: ABNC (American Bank Note Co.), AP (Ashb-Potter America), AV (Avery Dennison), BCA (Banknote Corp. of America), DB (Dittler Bros.), KCS (KCS Industries), M (3M), SV (Stamp Venturers). Other stamps are from the U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing (BEP). Postal cards are from the U.S. Government Printing Office, envelopes from Westvaco, Envelope Division.

First-day cancel grace periods. The grace period for sending for first-day cancels ends 30 days after a stamp's issue date, unless stated otherwise in the listing.

Details of each issue listed in this program are given in news stories in Linn's. Depending on space available, the date and page of such stories are given within an entry.

HOW TO ORDER FIRST-DAY CANCELS

Within the grace period (normally 30 days after the official first day), buy the stamp (or postal stationery item) at your local post office or philatelic center, affix it to an addressed envelope (postage must make up at least to the first-class rate) and send under cover to Customer-Affixed Envelopes, Postmaster, (Name of City, State and ZIP Code-9991 or the ZIP-4 Code given). No remittance is required. Most collectors prefer to use peelable return address labels that can be removed after the USPS returns the cover.

HOW TO ORDER STAMPS OR COVERS

Mail orders for mint stamps; plate number, ZIP code, copyright and inscription blocks; full panes; postal stationery; and the Postal Service's uncancelled first-day covers (FDCs) should be sent to the Philatelic Fulfillment Service Center, Box 449997, Kansas City, MO 64144-9997.

The PFSC imposes a $10 minimum and 50¢ service charge (for up to 500 stamps) on all orders, including orders for its FDCs. USPS-supplied FDCs, in specific formats only, cost the face value of the stamps affixed plus 21¢ per cover (price of some items, including first-day-cancelled stationery, may vary). A sales catalog called Stamps, etc. is free on request from the PFSC at the aforementioned address. Orders to the PFSC should use USPS order numbers.

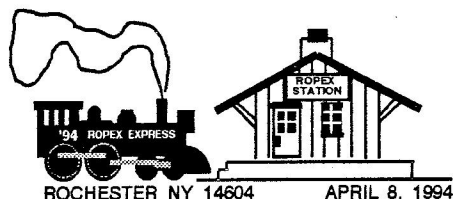

If you collect new issues, you should own Linn's U.S. Stamp Yearbooks. The 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991 and 1992 Yearbooks are available individually at various prices. Order all ten softcover volumes with slipcase for $150. A 1993 Yearbook will be published in 1994. An order form for individual yearbooks and other Linn's books appears on page 70.

ROPEX VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

There are many jobs that need to be done during the show, April 8-10. Working the club table and offering to help out at the juniors' booth are just a couple of them. If you have even only a single hour to give it would be appreciated. You will find sign-up sheets at the March RPA meetings. Please add your name.

We'll need people for setup on Thursday morning, April 7, at 9:00am at the Holiday Inn downtown. Starting around noon we'll begin putting exhibit pages in the frames. Also when the show is over Sunday at 4:00pm we'll need help taking down the exhibits and frames. Yes, it is a lot of work, but many hands make for a light load. Won't you help!
